MARGARET VALENTINE HITS THE ROAD AND STAGE WITH TODAY'S TOP SINGER / SONGWRITERS

Singer and songwriter Margaret Valentine continues her musical summer of star-studded dates performing her original country and crossover pop songs.

Kicking off her summer dates, Valentine will open for Jamie Cullum at the sure to be sold out iconic 9:30 Club in Washington, D.C. on June 3rd. Cullum has been recognized with numerous accolades and appointments by his peers, most notably receiving the Rising Star Award at the British Jazz Awards, nominations for Best Male Act and Best Live Performance, and Best Breakthrough Artist at the Brit Awards.

In New York City on June 19th, Valentine and her band will headline a major fund-raiser benefiting the Boys & Girls Clubs of America at the already sold out Cutting Room.

Margaret will then perform live and be the featured guest on the CBS Radio 106.5 FM "Maria and the Mix" morning show on June 27th.

On June 28th, Valentine will perform "America the Beautiful" live from atop the Orioles home dugout for an audience of more than 40,000 fans during the 7th inning of the Baltimore Orioles game at world famous Oriole Park at Camden Yards.

The talented singer/songwriter then joins international mega-star Ed Sheeran and the chart-topping A Great Big World for CBS Radio's Summer Blast at the Power Plant Live on July 1st. Valentine has the coveted honor of opening the exclusive show in front of a capacity crowd of 3,500 for the two pop fixtures.

On July 5th, Margaret and her band will then perform a live acoustic set and be the featured artist interview on WTMD Radio's "Sunny Side Up" show.

Margaret Valentine's songwriting and live performances are influenced by her early rock and country music roots and passion for writing country and crossover pop songs that range from edgy lyrical riffs to lilting soulful ballads.

Margaret's band includes well-known guitarists Marc Shulman and Tony Tino, percussionist Gary Seligson, keyboardist and guitarist Dan Weiss and several other top players who have performed live or recorded with Margaret, all highly regarded musicians who have worked with national acts such as The Eagles, Shania Twain, Bon Jovi, Suzanne Vega, Bob Dylan, Joan Osborne, Gavin DeGraw, Sean Colvin, Jewel, and others.
